

A WORD TO NOVICE DRIVERS

Some of the newest drivers at the Solo II event may get discouraged on their first try at a Solo II event. A word to the wise, don't! Rarely on your first time out are you going to beat out your more experienced competitors. Remember this is the first time you have driven your car quite this way. It takes little getting used to. The best way to be a winner is to gain more experience. This can only be done by entering future events and attending a SCCA drivers school.

REview

Aloha to members and nonmembers.

Mahalo on the cooperation on the May 15th event; we had over 70 plus cars. It was a successful event, but because of the growing numbers of entrants the BOD has agreed that we will go back to the previous system of running classes at a particular assigned time. We are going to use this system in the June event, in view of the fact that the June event may have more than 80 cars. Registration will close at 12:30 and tech inspection will close at 1:15.

Due to complaints regarding classification of cars during recent events, let it be known that SCCA officials can only advise drivers of their classification. It is for each group to police their own classes. If a protest is to be filed, please do so in writing within 30 minutes after the closing of the event.

Potential and existing Solo I drivers please contact me on or before June 12 at 988-7881. We will have a drivers meeting before the end of June to discuss the possibility of running an event in late July if track conditions permit. In the mean time, buckle up and drive safely. PETER CHUNG
